

RCI Ontario Chapter BUR Workshop

Ontario Chapter successfully delivered a Built-Up-Roofing Workshop

On April 19th at the Conestoga College Ontario Industrial Roofing Contractors Association Centre for Roofing Training a hands-on workshop was delivered with 21 people in attendance.

Built-up-roofing (BUR) systems have been widely used for over a century in North America and continue to be a common choice of roofing systems for owners, specifiers and installers. The workshop dealt with all aspects of felt and asphalt membrane development. Those in attendance witnessed the actual hands-on installation of a typical BUR system.

We owe a special thank you to IKO and Semple-Gooder Roofing for their development and delivery of this BUR workshop.

A RRC Study Group has been formed to assist RCI members in preparing for the upcoming November RRC Exam in Toronto. A once per month meeting will be held to review specific aspects of Roof Consulting with subject matter relative to the RRC exam. The next study session will be on Thursday May 30th at 1-5pm. Contact Mary Thorburn at RCI Ontario for more information.

RCI Ontario Chapter is holding a Train the Trainer Session on Wednesday June 5th at RCI at TCA from 9-10am. If you would like to be accredited to teach RCI Courses, sign up for this free session on the RCI Ontario Chapter website.
